

Magdalena (Magda) Punty is the Director of Research for the Eos Foundation. Magda joined Eos in 2014 to support both business and program operations for the foundation. Gradually, Magda transitioned to supporting research for Eos' Women's Power Gap Initiative (WPG). In 2021, she became the head of research team responsible for collecting and processing data published by WPG.

Magda comes to the Eos Foundation with a background in business management and operations. She holds a master's degree in Business Management from the University of Warsaw, and an MBA from Suffolk University. During her time at the University of Warsaw, she did extensive research in the field of organizational ethnography.

Magda is a proud immigrant who holds dual Polish-American citizenship. She lives in Harwich, Massachusetts with her husband and two sons. When not at the office, you will find Magda in her garden or enjoying photography during nature hikes.
